

Benefits and Employment Briefing

“Information alone won’t help you build a better benefit program, but wisdom will.”

► In an effort to keep employers, benefit administrators, and HR staff aware of the ever changing and generally increasing world of regulations governing how employers maintain compliance practices, United Benefit Advisors sponsors an extremely useful and educational quarterly newsletter.

Each informative issue covers a number of major topics to help improve the efficiency and effectiveness of your compliance program. You’ll get news and strategic information that helps you learn about security, privacy and confidentiality issues, changes on HIPAA, ERISA, COBRA rules and policies, and other important updates to help keep your compliance procedures current and complete. Give your organization the edge today – take advantage of our shared wisdom.
